Description
Legion: Absylonia, Daughter of Everblight

Contains one unassembled and unpainted metal model.

Absylonia has been no stranger to transformation and now, thanks to the gifts of Everblight, her body has settled into a stable form. On huge wings she flies over the battlefield, conveying her killing rage to the spawn that follow her. Though her own body no longer shifts, her blood is still attuned to the morphic energies of Everblight, and the ravenous spawn she commands now gain the same mutability she herself once possessed.
